

TOLERANCE AND INCLUSION

14-20 NOVEMBER 2021

What if our values had a broader perspective?

Prospects for humanity

In a world which is increasingly divisive and divided, what are the future prospects for our communities and societies to rethink our systems, including the economy, along the lines of value systems that better connects people to our planet and to each other?

FOCUS	WORLD MAJLIS TOPIC	DESCRIPTION	DATE
PEOPLE	The Business of Compassion   The value(s) of our economy	The forces of globalisation and the Fourth Industrial revolution have led to a world where inequities in incomes and access to opportunities are at their widest ever, How can we improve the design of our institutions and economic systems so that it meets the needs of people within the means of our planet? How can our development models track factors beyond GDP and economic growth, and work better for human and planetary wellbeing? How can being good also be good for business? What would it take to make the transition to a fairer, more human-centred, economic system?	Tuesday/ Thursday  16th/18th Nov '21
PLANET	Art for Good   Using art to make our planet a better place  Co-curated with Italy	Can art create a smarter and more holistic society? The big, bad problems the world faces today – from climate change, to ending world hunger and poverty - will require global understanding, empathy and action to resolve. In this context how can we better engage art as a powerful ally in promoting tolerance, understanding and meaningful dialogue - and move us towards action for a better future?	Sunday  14th Nov '21
INNOVATION	Digital Brain, Digital Morality   Ensuring empathetic and unbiased AI  Co-curated with USA	In a world that is increasingly divided along social, political and ideological lines, how can we build technologies without the biases that exist within us? How can AI help us create fair and inclusive societies instead of overemphasising inequities? How can we imbue tolerance, respect, empathy and humanity in robots?	Tuesday/ Thursday  16th/18th Nov '21
NEXT GEN	Bridging the Divide   Bringing bold change with wisdom	How can current and future generations from diverse cultures work together in decision making and building actions for the future?
