

GLOBAL GOALS WEEK 16-22 JANUARY 2022

What if we really achieved the Sustainable Development Goals in 2030?

Prospects for humanity

With the world having committed to the important principles of the Sustainable Development Goals, what are our future prospects to actually achieve as many of them as possible by 2030, the stated milestone?

FOCUS	WORLD MAJLIS TOPIC	DESCRIPTION	DATE
PEOPLE	Everyday (S)Heroes Leading the charge towards the Global Goals Co-curated with Hungary	Studies of women in leadership in both business and political spheres have shown they are more likely to make decisions that focus on social and environmental issues alongside the "bottom-line". Can empowered women then be the real changemakers, on a path towards a long-term perspective that places profit on equal footing with positive social and environment impacts? How can gender equality contribute to a better future for everyone, and help us achieve the Global Goals by 2030?	Sunday/ Tuesday/ Thursday 16th/18th/20th Jan '22
PLANET	Power to Change the World Fueling a sustainable world in 2030	Population growth combined with global development, as we know it, require more and more energy. How can we power growth with the least damage to the planet? What does the future energy mix look like? What is oil's place vis-à-vis nuclear, renewables, etc.? Can we afford not to rethink our dependence on fossil fuels? Which new innovations will most dramatically change our energy future?	Sunday/ Tuesday/ Thursday 16th/18th/20th Jan '22
INNOVATION	Extending the Revolution to Every Doorstep Bringing the benefits of the 4th industrial revolution to everyone Co-curation under discussion.	If history is a guide, the rising Fourth Industrial Revolution tide won't lift every boat. Can emerging economies also reap the benefits of the Fourth Industrial Revolution? Can the Fourth Industrial Revolution power a new sharing society, and will this contribute to achieving the Global Goals or will technology continue to widen inequalities?	Sunday/ Tuesday/ Thursday 16th/18th/20th Jan '22
NEXT GEN	30 in 2030 A brighter future for everyone	As the future for young people today is often predicted as dark and scary, with fears over the state of the environment, the impact of new and invasive technologies, and growing social inequities, how can we all work together now to make 2030 better than 2020? How can we overcome the feeling of powerlessness we all share and become optimistic for the years to come? How do we give young people a louder voice and greater agency in influencing the future?	Sunday/ Tuesday/ Thursday 16th/18th/20th Jan '22
WOMEN	A Better Future for All Leaving no one behind	Women and girls continue to face several forms of discrimination. By signing up to the 2030 SDG agenda, governments committed to "leave no one behind." This commitment means that governments must invest in innovative research, data collection, and analysis to render the needs of women and girls visible. How can we ensure that the SDG agenda will include the voices of excluded women and girls? How can we move the promise to leave no one behind from rhetoric to reality?	Monday 17th Jan '22
